WOMEN BOOST FOR MERCHANT MARINE

Feminine Club Members Hear Need of Ship Subsidy Legislation.

S. F. EXAMINER, March 2: That an American merchant marine could be built up were adequate national encouragement given was one of the main points made by Attorney Robert T. Troy, speaking before the women of To Kalon Club yesterday afternoon, in behalf of the Merchants' Marine League, at Calvary Church.

Cross-country trade has been reduced to a total of eight vessels. "The lack of a proper merchant marine leaves us practically helpless in case of war. Our costly navy, for which the government is willing to spend many millions, is indeed at the mercy of any foreign power after it leaves the American shores," declared Mr. Troy.

The Merchant Marine League has been conducting a systematic campaign before the local women's clubs, and many of the women have joined the League. Mr. Troy's talk was preceded by a discussion of the current news, this being conducted by Miss Barbagata. On the musical program were Mrs. Harry McMullan; Miss Laura Ferguson, Miss Clara Harder; Mrs. Anna Lemon; Miss May Schlutter; Miss Hayes and Professor Schultz. Miss Clara Harder gave several popular songs and original compositions, which she whistled in a very artistic manner.

"Dingley is awfully out of sorts since the Administration turned him down." "What does he say about it?" "He says he wishes the waters of oblivion could roll over him." "Then why doesn't he run for Vice-President?" — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

rather expensive rail transit to the Atlantic side.

The American-Hawaiian Line is a product of very recent years. Our Pacific fleet, many of them being twelve thousand tons, will compare most favorably with any similar vessels operated in the western ocean.

Passenger Vessels Perhaps Later.

Asked whether the American-Hawaiian Line contemplates the addition of passenger tonnage to their existing fleet, Manager Dearborn remained somewhat non-committal. "We have the Honolulu now under construction and she will be ready, I presume by the latter end of the year. This vessel will comfortably accommodate forty-five first class passengers. You must remember that the lines now making Honolulu their terminal, save in the case of the A. H. Line, are devoting the most of their energies towards the handling of the local sugar. Our vessels receive a large amount of business from other island ports. This may account for the attention given to passenger business by the other companies. What ever action we might take in the matter of providing more accommodation for passengers between the islands and the mainland, it would seem as if the majority of the traveling public would continue to show a decided preference to the big through liners which touch at this port. At present the Honolulu is the only vessel that we have under construction as a liner in the passenger line."

General Manager Dearborn and Mr. Lapham were met by General Agent Morse, the local representative of the American-Hawaiian Line.

Mr. Dearborn expressed himself as greatly pleased at the rapid strides made by Honolulu in forging ahead with improvements and the beautification of the city.
